Prairie View has a passion for helping people live well and relate to one another in a positive, healthy manner. By offering a complete range of mental and behavioral health services for children, adolescents, adults, older adults and families, Prairie View is able to treat depression, anxiety disorders, marital and family conflicts, aging issues, addictions and more.

Mission & Treatment Philosophy
Fostering healing and growth in individuals and communities by providing behavioral and mental health services with compassion, competence and stewardship in the spirit of Christ

On March 15, 1954, 19 staff persons, most of whom were voluntary service workers, opened the doors of Prairie View with a vision of caring for the needs of persons with mental illnesses with dignity, respect and the highest standards of care.

Today, as the community mental health center for McPherson, Marion and Harvey counties, residents can receive services based on their ability to pay, and none will be denied services due to inability to pay.

Prairie View maintains its commitment to renew spirits, discover strengths and pursue excellence in all that it does.

Measuring Outcomes
As part of Prairie View's commitment to continuous improvement in services, those served are asked to indicate the effectiveness and satisfaction with their treatment. In addition, Prairie View measures patients' clinical outcomes, such as levels of functioning and severity of symptoms.
