United we stand
The transition to fall also brings the return of the United Way campaign to KUSM-W. This year, our campaign will be held the week of Oct. 30 so get geared up for some fall fundraising!

The United Way of the Plains works with a variety of nonprofits in Sedgwick, Butler, Sumner, and surrounding counties in south central Kansas to help people in need. Specifically, the United Way focuses on helping people who would otherwise not be able to meet education, income, and health needs. In fact, in 2015, the United Way helped 26 KUSM-W employees. When you support United Way of the Plains, not only do you help the south central Kansas community, you help the KU community too.

Baby Jay loves the Wichita community. Make him proud by joining the campaign! We’ll keep you updated with important information about our campaign in the next few weeks.

Tricks and treats and pumpkins ... oh my!
The Park Elementary kids will be on campus Tuesday, Oct. 31, for their annual trick-or-treating event. On the day of the event, the children will be split into groups and taken to different departments for candy or even small prizes. You can be as festive or reserved as you want to be. You can decorate, dress up in costumes, or it can be as simple as just handing out the candy or prizes. The only requirement is that you, as a department, supply the candy or prizes. If your department would like to participate, email jeaton2@kumc.edu, by Friday, Oct. 27.

But, wait … there’s more! We’ll also be holding our campus pumpkin-decorating contest. Prizes will be awarded for employee choice and kids’ choice for the favorite pumpkins. Let us know if you will decorate a pumpkin for the competition by Friday, Oct. 20. They will be distributed the morning of Monday, Oct. 23, and you’ll have until noon Monday, Oct. 30, to complete them. Deliver your decorated pumpkins to Public Affairs by that time.

On Tuesday, Oct. 31, the pumpkins will be displayed in the Sunflower Room for employee judging. Stop by and cast your vote before noon.

We want your stories. All of them ... large and small.
Is there a special event happening in your department? Do you know a student who has an interesting hobby, or who has made a significant accomplishment?

Are you involved in community outreach? An educational program? A hands-on workshop or training session?

Public affairs wants to know about any and all of these events. There are a variety of ways we can publicize events and accomplishments in the school, but we can’t promote them if we don’t know they’re happening.

Though not every event is going to catch the attention of the media, we can still promote your event through one of our social media accounts, our monthly community newsletter, or by writing our own feature story for the school’s website.

Keep us informed. Drop us an email and tell us what’s happening. We’ll share the good news.

We support you
Public affairs offers a variety of items to support your department events. Do you need a logo banner to showcase at your fair booth? We have a few. Are you serving cold drinks at an event and want something sleeker than a cooler? You can borrow one of our stainless steel beverage tubs. Are you looking for a way for people to take notice? No one can ignore a 6’ inflatable Jayhawk.

Visit our website to check out photos of available items and fill out an event support request form to reserve what you need.

You can also request an appearance by our energetic and fun Baby Jay. Loved by adults and kids alike, Baby Jay will kick your event up a notch. All Baby Jay appearances must have a direct connection to KUSM-W.
2018 open enrollment
Information about open enrollment for 2018 is posted on the State Employee Health Plan website. Open enrollment booklets, premium rates, and Optum coverage advisor is now posted.

This year will be an ACTIVE enrollment and all employees will need to make their health elections during open enrollment in the Membership Administration Portal (MAP). Get all details concerning the State Employee Health Plan (SEHP).

HealthQuest
There’s not much time left to earn your 2018 HealthQuest premium incentive. Employees and spouses enrolled in medical plans A and C, you have until Sunday, Dec. 31, to complete your health assessment (worth 10 credits) and earn 40 total HealthQuest credits and get the premium incentive of $480 for 2018.

Plan C members have until Thursday, Nov. 9, to complete activities for HSA/HRA contributions. After Nov. 9, all activities will only count as credits. This means credits need to be posted in the HealthQuest portal by Nov. 9.

December 2017 exams need to be reported to SOK by Jan. 31, 2018, for credits in the 2017 program year.

Complete your health assessment and earn your total credits. For questions contact KDHE.healthquest@ks.gov.

The October issue of the HealthQuest newsletter is now available.

Flu shot clinics
Flu season can start as early as October. The flu shot takes approximately two weeks to become effective. It is important to get your shot early to ensure protection before flu season actually occurs. All active employees, spouses, and dependents over 18 years of age who are covered under Plans A or C of the State Employee Health Plan (SEHP) are eligible for a flu shot at no cost. Remember to take your CVS Caremark card to the appointment.

For more information regarding Flu Shots check out the KDHE page.
Professional development opportunity
HR invites all campus members to attend a virtual workshop, "Your Influential Personality Type: How to Be More Persuasive," from noon-2 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 26, in Roberts Amphitheater.

Have you ever wondered why some people seem to "click" with your ideas, while others just don't seem to "get it"? Have you ever been confused by how someone falls in love with an idea that you think is terrible? If you answered yes to either (or both) of these scenarios, then you do not want to miss this virtual workshop. In this program, you will learn more about the four influential personality types and key phrases you'll want to start using to improve your influential powers.

This workshop is offered as a virtual event by the College and University Professional Association for Human Resources (CUPA-HR). For more information or to receive the calendar invite, please contact Crystal Nevins at cnevins@kumc.edu.

Working with deaf and hard-of-hearing people

“This past spring/summer, my colleagues and I had the challenging, but rewarding opportunity to provide prenatal care to a deaf patient. I was the initial provider that assumed her care at her first OB visit. During that appointment, we were fortunate enough to have a video interpreter. The video had several glitches, however, which was frustrating for both the patient and me. I spent the majority of my time speaking very loudly to the interpreter on the video screen as the volume was not working appropriately. At her follow up visits, we tried to have a live interpreter scheduled due to the difficulty with the video at her initial visit. Unfortunately, sign language interpreters are in high demand, and we were unable to have one present at each, frequent OB visit. When one was unavailable, we often found ourselves using a cell phone to text back and forth to ensure all of the patient’s questions and concerns were addressed. Overall, the experience of caring for a hearing-impaired patient was of tremendous value and one that I will not forget. It took teamwork from the nursing staff, physicians, social worker, and the patient to provide the best care possible for an expecting mother and her unborn child.”

--Dr. Claire Markham, KUSM-W OB-GYN resident

Don’t forget to register for the interactive program, “Working with Deaf and Hard-of-Hearing People – Would You Know What to Do?” sponsored by the KU School of Medicine-Wichita Diversity & Inclusion Steering Group.

Monday, Oct. 16
11:30 a.m.–1 p.m.
Sunflower Room

More than 90 percent of deaf children are born to hearing parents and approximately 37.5 million adult Americans report some trouble hearing. Whether you see patients, work with students, or are interacting with co-workers and the general public, would YOU know what to do?

This program is designed to educate and raise awareness about this important and often missed issue. Uncover myths and misconceptions, discover what it’s like to be “Alone in a Hearing World,” and even learn some basic sign language.

This program is taught by Kathy Stewart, assistant director of the Office of Disability Services at Wichita State University.

Lunch will be provided to those who register by Oct. 11 (that’s today!). Please note any dietary requirements.

General reservations will be taken until Friday, Oct. 13.

For questions, contact Crystal Nevins at cnevins@kumc.edu.

Annual fire drill

The KUSM-W annual fire evacuation drill will be conducted the morning of Friday, Oct. 20. In preparation, make sure you know your two closest means of egress, locations of fire extinguishers and fire alarm pull stations, as well as where your assembly point is located. When you hear and/or see the fire alarm is activated, immediately vacate the building.

During fire emergencies, follow RACE and PASS:

R-Remove persons in immediate danger
A-Activate the alarm by pulling down the handle on the nearest fire alarm pull box. Call 911.
C-Confine fire by closing doors and windows
E-Evacuate using nearest means of egress and do NOT use elevators

Note: Only attempt to extinguish small fires and only if it does not jeopardize your own safety. NEVER attempt to extinguish a fire if it is between you and your exit! Follow PASS:

P-Pull safety pin
A-Aim at the base of the fire
S-Squeeze handle
S-Sweep side to side at the base of the fire

Each department has assigned floor monitors available to assist with the evacuation and run the building clearance status checklist at the fire assembly points. Floor monitors wear a bright orange vest. It is critical to report to your floor monitor. Floor monitors will report the building clearance status to security or EMS (upon arrival on-scene).

Review the KUSM-W fire prevention and response plan. If you would like more information or have questions, feel free to contact Emergency and Safety Management at 293-3409 or somwemergencysafety@kumc.edu.
